

What is TradeUp?

TradeUp helps you pay for tuition with an Income Share Agreement (ISA), instead of a loan. Here's why we think you'll love one:

- Unlike a loan, you pay a percentage of your salary, so it's always affordable.
- Your payments don't start until you graduate and land a job!
- There is no minimum amount you need to pay. Your ISA will expire even if you've paid back less than you borrowed.
- Your payments are capped, so even if you're making $100,000+, you'll never pay more than the maximum cap.

TradeUp ISAs are a better alternative to student or personal loans.

- You only pay for school when you land a job, and payments are always affordable.
- ISAs have no interest, they expire, and repayments are capped. You'll never pay too much.
- ISAs don't require a co-signer or a minimum credit score.
- If you need to stop working, your ISA payments pause - no penalty, no fees.
- TradeUp cares about helping you succeed. Our students get job search help and career advice, all for free.
- And much more! Read about all of the benefits on our website, at www.wetradeup.com.

Full-Stack Software Engineering Standard ISA Terms

$5,400 total funding

9.9% income share percent

Including a 1% discount for Autopay

24 monthly payments

2.0x maximum payback

1 month grace period

With an ISA, you share a percentage of your income with us instead of paying a fixed amount of money every month. This means your payments will always be affordable, because they adjust with your salary.

ISAs don't start until 1 month after you've graduated and until you're set up in a job making more than $30,000 a year.

Our ISAs end in one of two ways. Either you reach the maximum repayment cap, or the repayment period ends.

Example ISA terms. Your individual terms will vary based on a number of factors
